The following list corresponds to the order of the album; it tells who the person is (if identified). Names in brackets followed by question marks indicate identification has not been verified; this includes names that were written on the back of photographs but not confirmed by other images. Many of these unverified names are taken from a handwritten list compiled in the late 1860s-1870s and researchers should be aware that these identifications in particular may be erroneous. For this inventory the numerical sequence of the photograph slots on each page of the album follows a left to right, top to bottom pattern.

The Eagleswood Album contains penciled inscriptions beneath the various photographs, often times recording the name of the photographer as well as any other information written on the back of the paper mount of the photograph. Researchers should be aware that this information was added by a former member of staff and numerous errors are present. For conservation reasons these inscriptions have not been erased.
